FOREWORD

As the autumn leaves are lost to flurries of winter snow, melted all too soon by the warmth of spring, life in our Alma Mater also evolves into fond memories of a year's enriching experiences. Through these we gain insights to strengthen the social, mental, and spiritual aspects of our lives.

Since school pride is such a vital asset to the success of any institution of learning, we have come to place special emphasis on its meaning in all phases of campus life. With this temper of vigor incorporated into the attitude of every student and teacher, we feel that we shall retain the enviable reputation we have achieved through past accomplishments.

With this goal in mind, we wish to recreate the spirit of enthusiasm which has marked the student body of Rocky Mount Senior High School this year, and to relive each great moment of triumph.

As we perceive the metamorphosis of Mother Nature through her seasons, we must trace our progress with hers. We must identify the traditions we have maintained, along with the new ideas which have widened the scope of our entire school program.

An inquisitive mind is the primary requirement for successful education.

A spirit of enthusiasm illustrates one of the fundamental impulses of school life; the state of oneness which is the combined effort of many to win their goals. Through participating in organizations and activities, and by enriching his understanding of human knowledge in the classroom, the individual not only keeps his distinctiveness, but also gives a portion of himself to the success of his school.

A Spirit of Enthusiasm

Rocky Mount Senior High has a proud heritage. The past has witnessed excellence in various fields of endeavor, attributed mainly to the interest with which its administration, community, faculty, and students have supported its projects. The school has produced competent citizens, prepared to face a world of challenge. The future beckons brightly.

The face of victory has varied expressions!

A Tradition of Success

Mrs. Ora Pace VanBuskirk, runner-up for the state's best high school biology instructor, receives her honor after years of dedicated teaching.

Not ME!

DEDICATION

MRS. ADA SPENCER HOBBS

Members of the cast join with the audience in applauding Mrs. Hobbs at the close of another outstanding play.

A joy in helping young people is the most endearing quality of "Mama" Hobbs, as she is known to all her students. As well as being head of Rocky Mount Senior High's excellent Dramatics Department and director of two exceptional plays each year, Mrs. Hobbs teaches junior English and extends the magic of the theater to non-Edsonians in her capacity as advisor to the Dramatics Club.

Like the prospective actors she trains, Mrs. Hobbs plays varied roles. The students know her as a friendly, energetic, entertaining teacher, and a conscientious, capable director. Her co-workers are aware of her enthusiasm, fine sense of humor, and deep-seated concern for her work. The community recognizes her for her interest and aid in civic endeavors. Her family see her as a devoted mother and proud grandmother.

For her selfless devotion to Senior High and its students, we gratefully dedicate this 1963 HI-NOG-AR to Mrs. Ada Spencer Hobbs—herself an inspiration.

The proud grandparents reminisce over past experiences with their family.

Autumn...

MR. D. S. JOHNSON
Superintendent

Directing the complicated activities of a growing school system is a responsibility that calls for patience, tact, efficiency, and complete dedication. Rocky Mount is fortunate to have a man at the head of its educational structure who possesses these needed characteristics. An expanded curriculum emphasizing broadened cultural interests and physical fitness, as well as the erection of modern educational plants testify to the success of Mr. Johnson's years of service.

ADMINISTRATION

MR. C. M. EDSON
Principal

Mr. Edson is unquestionably one of the most versatile principals in the state of North Carolina. His keen sense of humor, his sincere devotion to duty, his abiding interest in young people compliment his outstanding personality. He conscientiously applies himself to the continuing development of our school in a manner that endears him to students, co-workers, and the community at large. He represents the ideal educator.

MISS KATE PARKS KITCHIN

A special "something" called understanding enables Miss Kitchen to retain the respect and admiration of all who know her. She aids students in choosing the right path, not only through her work as Guidance Counselor, but also through excellent English instruction.

MR. CHARLES FOUNTAIN

As Guidance Counselor, Mr Fountain must help the young people of our school with various types of problems; however, he makes all students feel that he is not only their advisor, but their friend as well.

MRS. BESSIE CARR

Without Mrs. Carr, our problems would soon overtake us. Not only does she perform efficiently as Secretary, but she treats each student with special attention. Her hours are long and her tasks numerous, but she is ever ready to assist all who need her advice.

MR. E. W. PEGRAM, JR.

As Administrative Assistant, Mr. Pegram capably supervises the maintenance of buildings and grounds, proper operation of cafeterias, equipment, and the janitorial services.

MEMBERS OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

SUPERINTENDENT'S STAFF, (seated) Mrs. Frances Speight, (standing) Mrs. Norma Wehunt, Miss Jo Ann Hill, Mrs. Linda Armstrong, and Mrs. Faye Cannon assist all students throughout the school system.

P E R S O N

GUIDANCE ASSISTANTS, (seated) Carolyn Timms and Becky Penny; (standing) Lona Batten, Diane Tanner, Patricia Whaley, Martha Campbell, and Lyne Evans help Mr. Fountain and Miss Kitchin in a myriad of ways.

One privilege of the cashiers — Mrs. Carr, Faye Downing, and Tom McAuley — is that they are allowed to eat their lunch in peace before the avalanche of students rushes in for first lunch period.

"May I help you?" ask snack bar assistants Douglas Knowles, Dusty Moore, Gwen Whitaker, Kenneth Rackley, and Ann Proctor.

Members of the Senior High cafeteria staff are Margie Arrington, Mrs. Susie Winstead, Mrs. Brooks Daughtridge, Florence Smith, Mary L. Jenkins, and Camilla Lucas.

Mrs. Grace Proctor and Mrs. Doris Eakes post the daily menu in the cafeteria.

The addition of Russian to the curriculum proves that our Language Department is certainly growing. Other courses offered include first, second, and third-year Spanish; first, second, and third-year French; and second-year Latin. The emphasis is on the spoken language and the excellent facilities of our language laboratory enable each student to develop his abilities at his own rate.

INCREASING OUR ABILITY TO BE UNDERSTOOD...

To increase the students' vocabulary, Mrs. Williams pronounces the words from the teacher's set of cards as students refer to their own set.

The English Department is the most important part of our academic curriculum. Every other department would crumble were it not for the excellent work performed by the English teachers. In all phases of our lives there is a demand for correct and fluent expression of ideas and feelings. Each student personally accepts this challenge and through conscientious work and the guidance of superb instructors the challenge is met and overcome.

Courses in English are designed to benefit all students. At each grade level there are average classes for students with normal ability, special courses for those with modified ability, and advanced courses in grammar and composition for those with superior potential. Grammar and vocabulary are constantly emphasized, but students are exposed to all types of prose and poetry, in the hope that they will develop an appreciation of literature.

DEVELOPING OUR MINDS TO THINK LOGICALLY...

Mr. Abernathy adds meaning to a complicated graph.

Courses in mathematics up-to and including one semester's study of analytic geometry and introductory calculus are available to students at Rocky Mount Senior High School. College algebra and trigonometry courses are taught with the aim in mind that college credit for these courses will be rewarded.

Students are placed in mathematics classes according to their mathematical ability, permitting a small percentage of students to complete the requirements for plane and solid geometry in one year, as well as permitting less-capable students to continue their study of fundamental operations in a purely practical sense.

DISCOVERING NATURE'S WONDERS...

Dissecting a grasshopper requires patience and a steady hand.

It is the aim of the Science Department to stimulate students to appreciate the world about them by heightening their scientific interests and instilling in them an appreciation for the scientific method. Standard courses including biology and chemistry prepare students for a course either in physics or advanced biology. These science courses serve a two-fold purpose by providing the non-college pupils with a rewarding and beneficial experience and preparing the college-bound students for further scientific study.

Obvious testimony to the efficiency of our science faculty lies in the fact that Mrs. Ora VanBuskirk was the recipient of the runner-up award for the most outstanding science teacher in North Carolina.

KEEPING OUR BODIES ALERT...

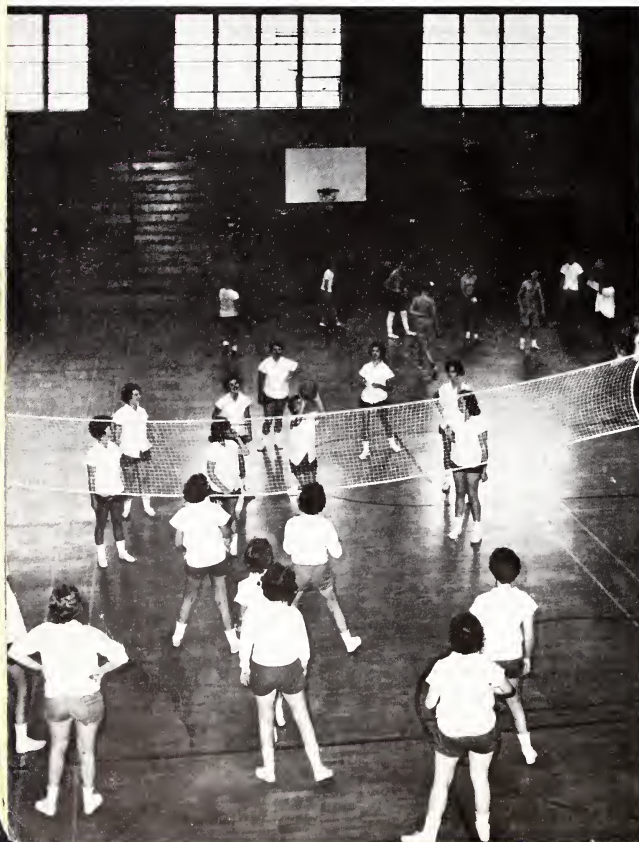

The Physical Education Department attempts to strengthen students physically and mentally, to help them develop good sportsmanship and to instill within them qualities of leadership and cooperation. Vigorous exercises help keep the students physically fit while tough, competitive sports increase their ability to think accurately and quickly.

Physical Education is an elective for sophomores and juniors and this year was a required course for all seniors.

PERFECTING OUR TALENTS...

Band is a rewarding experience for the students who take part. These students practice constantly to perfect their abilities. By performing at athletic contests and presenting annual concerts, the band serves our school and community.

Learning beautiful compositions and relaxing through singing are only two of the valuable experiences enjoyed by those participating in the choir. They reveal their fine talents by presenting various musical programs.

Through the presentation of two major productions a year, members of the Dramatics Department put into practice the various aspects of theatrical art learned in the classroom. Emphasis is also placed on general voice improvement.

BORROWING FROM THE PAST TO UNDERSTAND THE FUTURE...

"But you've got to admit that if Red China were admitted to the United Nations"

Every student in Senior High enjoys the facilities of the Social Studies Department at one time or another. The courses offered include American and world history, economics, sociology, government, and psychology. The department is proud of its participation in the In-School Television Network and receives two programs daily, one in American history and one in world history. Through this variety of courses, students learn of the events past and present, which enables them to face the future with determination and an open mind.

American history students receive daily broadcasts by Miss Iola Parker, a former Senior High teacher, from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. These interesting and varied programs help students toward a better understanding of their heritage.

The changing pattern of home and family living points to new emphasis in our Home Economics Department. It is the aim of this department to help young people to create and appreciate beauty, to work together democratically, to establish values, to make intelligent choices, to manage resources, and to prepare for future responsibilities.

Provisions are made for creative experiences and skills in three courses offered in the shop building. General shop, with emphasis in wood working, is an elective for all boys. Mechanical drawing is offered to boys in the eleventh and twelfth grades. Vocational machine shop is offered to all boys who plan to go into the metal working field.

ACQUIRING SKILLS FOR FUTURE VOCATIONS...

Business education offers many rewards for non-college students as well as college-bound students. Courses in typewriting, shorthand, book-keeping, and office machines train interested students who do not plan to continue their education after high school.

Distributive Education trains students for careers in different businesses. This plan combines part-time work experience with in-school instruction to enable the student, upon graduation, to be a qualified employee and a useful citizen.

Sondra Shelton discovers it's hard to spell "antidisestablishmentarianism," even in shorthand.

BROADENING OUR CULTURAL KNOWLEDGE...

The library at Rocky Mount Senior High offers ideal surroundings for quiet study and research. It has a seating capacity of ninety-two and contains approximately two thousand volumes, not including reference books. This year thirty-four assistants serve in cooperation with the librarian to meet the needs of nine hundred and fifty pupils.

Creativity is the basis for the progress in our modern society. The art program at Senior High is designed to foster creativity. Students have the opportunity and are encouraged to experiment with a variety of materials and techniques. The particular areas explored during the first year are painting, sculpture and architecture. Advertising, graphics, and ceramics follow in the second year.

A "New Deal" — this year marked the first selling of paperbacks in the library.

The officers are Jan McCrary, Secretary; Greg Low, President; Edwin Arrington, Treasurer; and David Williams, Vice President.

The Student Organization exists for several reasons. Its specific purposes are stated in its constitution, but one goal outranks all others: To provide students an opportunity to participate in the functioning of democracy, and thereby helping build strong citizens. Striving for this, the Student Organization reaches out to promote student interest in school activities, to stress scholarship, character, and leadership, and to provide continuing services to the school.

Wheels started rolling last summer. Committee chairmen were appointed and preparation for the opening of school began. Committee plans started to materialize, orientation of the Sophomores and transfer students began, student support of the future state champion football team was encouraged, and numerous other projects shaped up. The Student Organization was running smoothly, and continued to do so throughout the year.

Several new activities were initiated this year and many old programs were strengthened. A standing School Spirit Committee was established to help promote and to correlate school spirit activities of all school groups. School dances were boosted by the presence of bands made possible by a generous P.T.S.A. The magazine campaign enjoyed more success than ever, and the participation and efficiency of the representatives were outstanding. Homeroom and class organizations also functioned smoothly, and contributed much to the effectiveness of the Student Organization.

The tremendous aid of the faculty cannot be ignored. Their help, interest, and support, and the guidance provided by all advisors actually made possible the gains and dreams that the Student Organization realized this year.

This year THE BLACKBIRD was its former self in name only. For the first time the offset method of printing was used, and because of this the paper was neater and pictures were clearer. Thirteen issues were published during the year with eight pages in each issue with the exception of the twelve-page color Christmas issue.

Following the traditional kickoff assembly, the 1962-63 Staff sold a record 750 subscriptions. Total circulation was nearly 1000. The Miss Print campaign was successfully conducted with fourteen girls participating. Lindy Brice was crowned Miss Print for 1962 in an assembly with "Winter Wonderland" as the theme.

Participating in the School Press Project of the National Tuberculosis Association is an annual affair for the Staff. Betty Armstrong captured first place honors; David Lamm, second; and Jeff Kincheloe, third.

Immediately before the Christmas holidays, THE BLACKBIRD Staff sponsored the election of girls for the Junior-Senior Beauty Court. Pictures and statistics of these girls were sent to a celebrity to be judged. The winner was crowned queen at the Junior-Senior Dance by the Editor of THE BLACKBIRD.

In March several members of the Staff journeyed to New York for the annual convention of Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The Staff carried with them high hopes of winning a medalist for the first time.

Under the supervision of advisor Mrs. Margaret Williams, the Staff worked diligently to publish the best BLACKBIRD possible. Officers were Dwight Thomas, Editor; Nancy Helms, Advertising Manager; Dell Harris, Business Manager; and Mike Floyd, Circulation Manager. News editors were Marilyn Spencer and Jimmy Williams, editorial editor was Greg Low, feature editor was Carlton Edwards, and sports editor was David Lamm.

CHEERLEADERS LEAD SCHOOL SPIRIT CAMPAIGN

A huge, vivacious bunch of energy . . . that is the cheerleaders of Rocky Mount Senior High School. Here and there, always promoting school spirit for all athletic events, they are our most ardent boosters.

This year for the first time, the cheerleaders met as a club once each week to practice new cheers and become better organized. With the help of Mrs. Evelyn Walston, they seemed to improve with each performance.

Whether at a pep rally with a blazing bonfire, or entertaining guest cheerleaders at a meal before the game, these girls are responsible for keeping interest high.

This year was a particularly busy one for this group, for they followed the football and basketball teams through two tournament seasons, thereby adding enthusiasm and high spirits to vital games. Their cries of "Let's go . . . let's go . . . let's really go" echoed from one end of North Carolina to another.

During the homecoming parade, the resounding voices of the cheerleaders were heard as they rode in their special car.

Mrs. Walston gives the cheerleaders last minute instructions before an out-of-town game.

1962 BLACKBIRDS WIN

A TRIBUTE TO

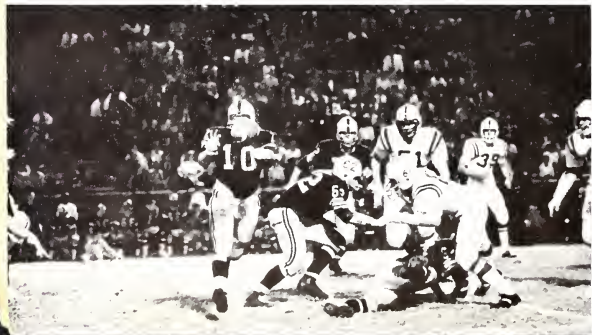

By Bob Williams, Telegram Sports Editor

Rocky Mount fans board the "Blackbird Special" for the trip to Charlotte and the Myers Park game.

Myers Park quarterback Jeff Beaver finds the going rough as Blackbird defenders Steve Wright and Digit Laughridge move in for the tackle.

The Blackbird's offense rolls as Talbott pitches out to Pitt in the semi-finals of the State Championship.

The 1962 football season will go down in the annals of Rocky Mount Senior High School athletics as That Magnificent Year.

It was an historic season when championship dreams came true, when outstanding Rocky Mount Senior High heroes rode the prestige of an undefeated season to lofty levels of acclaim that included state, sectional, and national honors.

It was a dramatic season during which the city of Rocky Mount rose up in a stirring display of mass support for a mighty football team that engulfed its fans in a feverish surge of excitement.

It was the season when RMHS quarterback Danny Talbott, one of those gifted stars who comes along only rarely to blaze a glittering path across the athletic heavens, came to be accepted as the most outstanding football player in the state and the greatest all-around athlete in his school's history.

It was, indeed, That Magnificent Year.

These heroics and the wonderful things that came with them were accomplished by an outstanding Blackbird football team that marched to the first state championship in Rocky Mount Senior High history. And this team did it in a manner that established it as one of the school's greatest—undefeated for a record of eleven victories and one tie.

The Birds of Coach Chris Carpenter—who continued to prove himself one of North Carolina's leading high school coaches—were a brilliant team throughout the season. But the most remarkable part of the year was the decisive march of the Blackbirds through the championship playoffs, leaving no doubts as to their rights to the football throne of North Carolina.

After winning the Eastern 4-A Conference crown with a thrilling victory over Raleigh in the final game of the regular season, RMSH headed into the playoffs, meeting Charlotte Myers Park in the semi-finals. Charlotte hopes were high, but Myers Park never had a chance as the Birds rolled to a highly impressive 21-6 victory.

That put Rocky Mount in the state championship against Winston-Salem Reynolds, an undefeated team with a proud record of stout defensive play. The Reynolds defense, however, was no match for the power and magic of Rocky Mount's Talbott—led offense. Danny's superlative passing and running directed a fired-up attack that smashed Reynolds 20-6.

Throughout the season, and particularly in the playoff drive, Talbott was superlative in leading Rocky Mount's cast of stars. He collected every available honor—All-Conference, All-State, All-Southern and All-American to become the most widely acclaimed football player in RMHS history.

This, however, was no one-man team; it took a lot of talent to accomplish the championship dream. Sensational halfback Wrennie Pitt, ends Dennis Newell and Billy Warren, and mighty tackle John Alexander joined Talbott in the All-Conference ranks.

The list of heroes ran almost through the entire team roster. Halfbacks Digit Laughridge, Craig Quick, and Darrell Johnson and fullbacks Wayne Daughtridge and Robert Bridgers were vital to the Blackbird attack. Without a stellar line that fought with tremendous desire, Rocky Mount's cause would have been lost. The Birds had such linemen in guards Steve Wright, Butch Clayton, David Parker, and Tommy Cheshire, center Wayne Bullock, tackles Bobby Jones, Allen Wester, and Julian Fenner, and ends Bob Sides, Tom Parrish, and Brent Milgrom.

These were the men of Rocky Mount Senior High who made it possible. That Magnificent Year.

'62 GRIDDERS COMPLETE FINEST SEASON IN R.M.S.H. HISTORY

Rocky Mount Senior High's 1962 football team reached heights of glory no football team at R.M.H.S. has ever attained, as it strong-armed its way to the State 4-A Football Championship.

The '62 Birds of Coach Chris Carpenter compiled a 9-0-1 regular season record to take top honors in the Eastern 4-A Conference, the only blot to a perfect record coming in a 6-6 tie with rival Fayetteville. The conference title race was the closest in many years, and wasn't decided until the Blackbirds took a hard-fought 13-7 win over defending State Champion Broughton of Raleigh in the last regular season game for both teams.

The high-flying Blackbirds then went into playoff action, and gained a berth in the 4-A finals by trouncing Myers Park of Charlotte, 21-7.

On November 23, at Bowman-Gray Stadium in Winston-Salem, the Blackbirds were not to be denied as they crushed Winston-Salem Reynolds by the score of 20-6, and brought to R.M.H.S. its first undefeated football season and its first State 4-A Football Championship.

Post season honors were poured on outstanding Blackbirds. Quarterback Danny Talbott was selected All-American, All-Southern, All-State, and All-Conference, and was selected as the Outstanding Back in the annual Shrine Bowl game. Halfback Wrennie Pitt was another All-State, All-Conference selection, and was also selected to play in the Shrine Bowl game. Ends Dennis Newell and Billy Warren and tackle John Alexander also received first team All-Conference honors. Second team All-Conference positions were won by Steve Wright, Craig Quick, Butch Clayton, Darrell Johnson, Marion Barnes, and Tom Parrish.

Several other Blackbird players received an honorable mention in the All-State and All-Conference voting.

BAND FOLLOWS BIRDS TO VICTORY

Beating brass drums, deep throated tubas, and blaring brasses combine to create a sound which is dear to every Blackbird's heart—the music of the Rocky Mount Senior High Band.

This high-stepping unit represents Senior High in all parades that take place in Rocky Mount and surrounding areas. This year they participated in the Shrine Ceremonial, the Azalea Festival, and the Harvest Festival, as well as making the football field come alive with half-time shows.

Senior High owes much to these fellow Blackbirds who work so diligently to serve their school.

SERVICE CLUB SPONSORS HOMECOMING PARADE

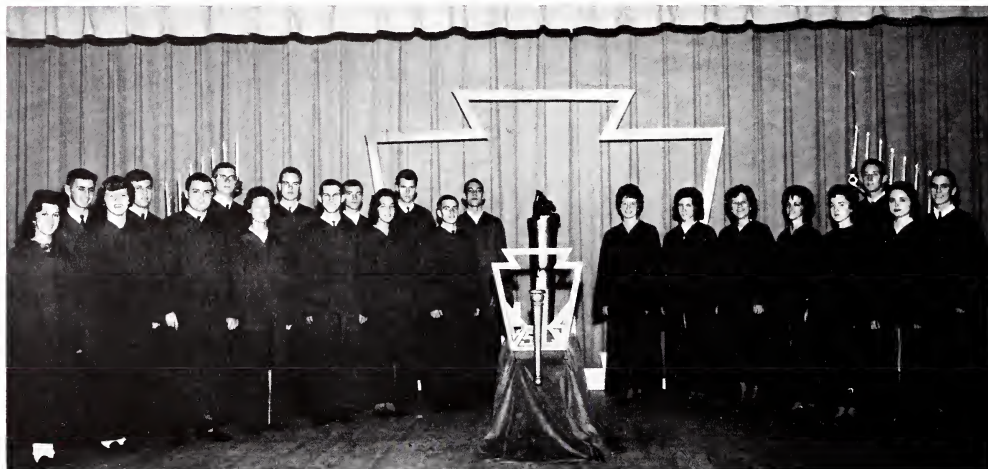

The name Service Club is aptly applied to this group of hard-working juniors and seniors. The many projects performed by this group include selling lightbulbs and candy, raising and lowering the flag at school and at all home football games, and giving the regular assembly devotional. The sponsorship of a needy family at Christmas and the annual Christmas assembly are projects that are always successful. In the spring of each year, the Service Club holds the annual Easter Sunrise Service. It is truly a beautiful tradition. This organization is an asset to school and community; so wearing the Service Club ribbon is a mark of distinction and pride for the wearer.

The Wita A. Bond Chapter of the National Honor Society admits members on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. For this reason, membership in this organization is one of the most coveted honors a student may attain.

Highlighting the year's activities are the impressive tapping ceremonies in the fall and spring.

Among other worthwhile projects, the Society sells pencils, conducts a carwash in the spring, and compiles a scrapbook of its achievements. As recognition for outstanding accomplishments, a Most Valuable Member Award is given to one Society member and a Wita A. Bond Memorial Scholarship is presented to a student who excels in mathematics. This group is indeed an asset to our school.

DEBATE CLUB MEETS AREA CHALLENGES

"No matter how thin the pancake, it has two sides." To cause this maxim to operate in the making of important decisions is the aim of the Debate Club which is composed this year of nine seniors, two juniors, and three sophomores.

During the year many important current issues are debated during club periods, assembly programs, and with other schools at the Triangular Debates sponsored by the University of North Carolina. Senior High is indebted to Mr. Julius Abernathy, advisor, for his interest in reactivating this important group.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS LOOK TOWARD TOMORROW

HOMEMAKERS' CREED

*We are the Future Homemakers of America.
We face the future with warm courage,
And high hope,
For we have the clear consciousness of seeking
Old and precious values.
For we are the builders of homes,
Homes for America's future.*

*Homes where living will be the expression of everything
That is good and fair.
Homes where truth and love and security and faith
Will be realities, not dreams.
We are the Future Homemakers of America,
We face the future with warm courage,
And high hope.*

BOOSTER CLUB PROMOTES SCHOOL SPIRIT

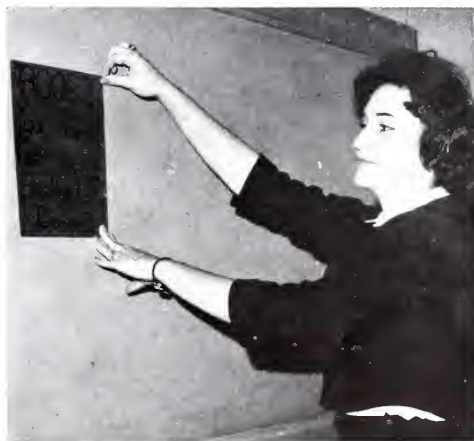

The Booster Club was organized this current school year. Members are composed of junior and senior girls who are willing to sacrifice time and energy to carry out projects initiated by the club. The purpose of this group is to back or boost all school sponsored activities, and undertakings are carefully planned in order to allow each member an opportunity to serve as a leader as well as a follower. Under a point system, girls receive one point as a member of any committee and five points in any leadership capacity. Points are also awarded those who help in carrying out projects initiated by other school organizations.

Mrs. Lundy presents a check from Sears to officers of the Booster Club, Laurie Collins, sergeant at arms; Karol Jean Sexton, secretary; Pat Hasty, president; Sue Russell, vice-president; and Linda Melton, treasurer; for their diligent help in distributing circulars concerning Christmas items.

Another service of the Booster Club is reminding students of school functions by putting up posters in various rooms.

THEATER MYSTERIES ARE UNCOVERED BY DRAMATICS CLUB

The Broadway stage holds an attraction for many. The Dramatics Club offers the student an opportunity to get behind the scenes and learn many of the techniques connected with the stage. Make-up, stage instruction, and experience in acting itself are taught these club members.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB IMPROVES CAMERA SKILLS

The Photography Club gives its members experience in the mechanics of using a camera. Students learn to set the camera, take pictures through a microscope, and develop their own prints. This training will prove valuable in later studies, careers, or hobbies.

STUDENT LIBRARIANS AID IN LIBRARY MANAGEMENT

The students in the Library Science Club are actually taking a course in library maintenance. They assist Mrs. Barnes in keeping the library orderly and up to date. Binding and marking books, keeping the desk, selling paperbacks, and helping students and teachers to find material are some of their duties. A special committee sees to it that the library bulletin boards always contain attractive displays.

Members of the Library Science Club on the first row are Cheryl Hemenway, Judy Pitt, Jackie Robbins, and Ann Proctor; second row, Frances Gaither, Mitchie Lane, Janet Langston, Aunette Parker, and Dennis Hobbs; third row, Wayne Pollard and Robert Kinchloe. EXPERIENCED SPORTSMAN LEADS WILDLIFE GROUP

Lured by a common interest in the great out of doors, the members of the Wildlife Club participate in many activities geared to the investigation of Nature's wonderland. Films on conservation, the habits of woodland animals, and hunting and fishing teach the members the values of our natural resources. They learn to hunt and fish skillfully, not wastefully. Under the leadership of Mr. Adkins, the Wildlife Club members become not only better sportsmen, but better citizens.

Members front are Billy McGahee, Mike Dawson, George Speight, Charles Lewis, Mr. Adkins, Larry Ayscue, Tommy Nichols, Cleve Rowe, Arthur Ehrenberg, Romie Herring, Larry Gupton, Ralph Wallace, Jay Kridel, Bobby Hall, and Garry Shell. STUDENTS LEARN TYPING FUNDAMENTALS

Students not taking typing as an academic course, have the opportunity of an introduction to typing through the Personal Typing Club. Mrs. White, the advisor, instructs club members in the basic funda-mentals of typing. The skill students gain from this club helps them to do typing for personal use, and also to decide if they desire to take typing as a course.

ENJOYING THE MUSIC OF THE MASTERS HAS ITS APPEAL

The purpose of the Prelude Club is to afford interested students the opportunity to hear and discuss the music of the world's greatest composers. Not only the works of these composers, but also their lives constitute fascinating studies. Under the guidance of their advisor, Mrs. Bobbitt, these students attempt to analyze the music by their own individual understanding. Through their weekly sessions the Prelude Club members broaden their knowledge and appreciation of good music.

Members seated: David Jones, Larry Deaton, Allan Dew, Grace Whitford, Ross Garriss, Peggy Gardner, Gail Turner, Dot Williamson, Raven Lindsey, Nancy Tilson, Linda Edwards, Sammy Quigley, Henry Currin and Mrs. Bobbitt, advisor. The Distributive Education students have common objectives and interests in that each is studying for a specific career. Club activities have a tremendous psychological effect upon the attitudes of students, because many have no other opportunity to participate in necessary social activities of the school or to develop responsibilities of citizenship.

Members of the Distributive Education Clubs of America learn to serve as leaders and followers, and have opportunity for state and national recognition that they would not have otherwise.

BROADCASTERS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF PROFESSIONAL HELP

Begun in 1935, the Radio Broadcasters Club is one of the oldest clubs in Senior High School. Throughout these years, it has been outstanding in the fields of radio and television. Providing an opportunity for students to participate in broadcasting and related fields, this club has laid the foundation for prosperous professions. Many of its former members hold important positions all over the state in both radio and television. The

LEAGUE MEMBERS ENJOY LEARNING OF ROMAN CULTURE

Bill Anderson is inducted into the Junior Classical League by officers Ginger Ryals, Craig Quick, and Mimi Munden.

The Junior Classical League is a national organization composed of local classical clubs in junior and senior high schools. It is the largest and fastest growing classical organization in the world today. It provides an opportunity for students to participate in extra-curricular activities and promote the classical cause.

The purpose of the Junior Classical League is to encourage among young people an interest in and appreciation of the civilization, language, literature, and art of ancient Greece and Rome and to give them some understanding of the debt of our own culture to that of classical antiquity.

The high light of the program for the year is the visit to the State Junior Classical League convention held in Chapel Hill at the University of North Carolina in March.

NEW CLUBS PROVIDE INSTRUCTION FOR BRIDGE ENTHUSIASTS

In recent years there has been a growing interest among teenagers for the game of bridge. This year at Senior High this keen interest led to the organization of two new bridge clubs—TRUMPS and TRICKS and the BLACK BRIDGE Club. Although only a few of the club members had had any previous experience in bridge playing at the beginning of the year, everyone was enthusiastic. Under the leadership of capable advisors, including Miss Craighill, Mrs. Teague, Miss Lunsford, and Mr. Felton, these students had soon mastered the fundamentals and were building their skills. These bridge club members agree that bridge is an important social asset and intellectually stimulating, as well as a lot of fun.

KUDOS KLUB SELLS HI-NOC-AR COVERS

"To serve classmates, school, and community, and to work unselfishly for others" is the stated purpose of the Kudos Klub. Organized in 1955, the club has been very active in school life in its eight-year history. The club's name is derived from the Greek work "Kydos", meaning "glory".

Club members Dell Lamm, Dale Kilgo, and Irma Brannon ask Pat Forbes and Pete Raper to buy some stationery.

The club members, however, strive to serve without personal glory. Serving as ushers at the P.T.S.A. open house and serving coffee and doughnuts in the cafeteria after the Easter Sunrise Service each spring are two of their main projects.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Margaret Williams, the members sell boxes of stationery and plastic HI-NOC-AR covers. These projects make money for the club and, at the same time, serve the students.

The officers of the Kudos Klub are Ronnie Arrington, president; Suzanne Arie, treasurer; Gwen Joyner, secretary; and Cameron Hunt, vice-president.

PHALANX RECOGNIZES OUTSTANDING BASKETBALL TEAM

Phalanx Club members A. G. Smith, Leonard Veilette, Bill Wiggins, Margaret Doherty, and Brack Townsend check coats for a school dance.

The word "phalanx" means "united together for a single purpose". This is an excellent title for this service club which, although one of the youngest service clubs, is one of the most outstanding.

The purpose of the Phalanx Club is to encourage and aid school and civic activities. This they do by such projects as the selection of the player of the week during basketball season, contributing to the Foreign Exchange Program, placing prayer cards in the cafeteria during Holy Week, and providing a coat check for school dances. The Phalanx Club also presents a trophy to the most outstanding basketball player of the year.

Other members of the club on the first row are: Sherry Bulluck, Linda Dickson, Barbara Swinson, Margie Powell, Maureen Doherty, Margaret Doherty, Bill Wiggins, and Mrs. Speight; advisor. Those on the second row are Carol Buttry, Sue Hall, Phyllis Walker, Ruth Ward, Becky Penny, Delores Parker, and Leonard Veilette. Members on the third row are Jack Long, J. C. Warren, Roddy Wilkins, Brenda Rogers, Carolyn Griffin, David Lamm, Rachel Powell, A. G. Smith, and Mac Tilley. On the fourth row are Johnny Brooks, Mickey Southerland, Donnie Allen, Mickey Bailey, Brack Townsend, Darryl Daniel, Buddy Elmore, Gene Viverette, Wade Pitt and absent from the picture is Glenda Jackson.

CHOIR SINGS FOR SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY

Members of the newly organized Boys Choir Club are Wayne Shearin, Paige Wood, Henry Lancaster, Glenn Hemmerle, Mickie Coppedge, Cary Houseman, David Williams, Wade Eason, Ricky Miller, Jimmy Leonard, Jay Daughtridge, J. E. Green, Tim Taylor, Ollie Perry, and Tommy Kennedy.

The seventy voices of the Rocky Mount Senior High School Choir have delighted members of the student body and community with performances given during the Christmas season, at the Spring Concert, usually a sketch from some Broadway musical comedy or operetta, held in May, and for Commencement. There are also one or two out-of-town engagements.

The Choir attempts to develop skills in reading music, singing, and performing before an audience. Members meet once each week during activity period, in addition to attending regular classes of chorus.

Music sung by the Choir is of a wide variety. Songs include spirituals, modern compositions, selections from other periods, and religious works. Under the direction of Mr. Harold Parry, music of all types is made fun, stimulating, and relaxing.

Carlton Livesay, accompanist, aids Mr. Parry.

Members include K. Rackley, W. Eason, R. Miller, L. Savage, A. Wester, J. Harris, G. Hemmerle, D. Winstead, M. Pike, C. Watson, J. E. Green, O. Perry, S. Toler, J. Deans, R. Bridgers, A. Proctor, G. Howell, J. Leonard, J. Daughtridge, H. Lancaster, M. Munden, V. Hall, B. Worrell, D. Tanner, C. Bell, K. Sexton, J. Howell, J. Pitt, A. Waters, J. Oakley, C. Jordan, A. Whitley, C. Lane, D. SOS CLUB SELLS BASKETBALL PROGRAMS

Wrapping gifts for their needy family are, seated, Dee Hooker, Sue Floyd, Judy Maurer, and Heather Harwood; standing are Betty Armstrong, Evelyn Ferguson, David Parker, Ivan Bunn, and George Eatman.

Many service clubs have been established at Senior High School, but the SOS Club under the able guidance of Miss Katherine Walker and Miss Judith Bissett, is one of the most outstanding. "Service Over Self" is practiced by all of the club members as they readily seek to serve without thought of personal recognition.

"How about something to eat?," ask Cheryl Andrews, Martha Campbell, Miss Walker, and Miss Bissett to Kay Hatchett and Marshall Pittman, as SOS members man the concession stand.

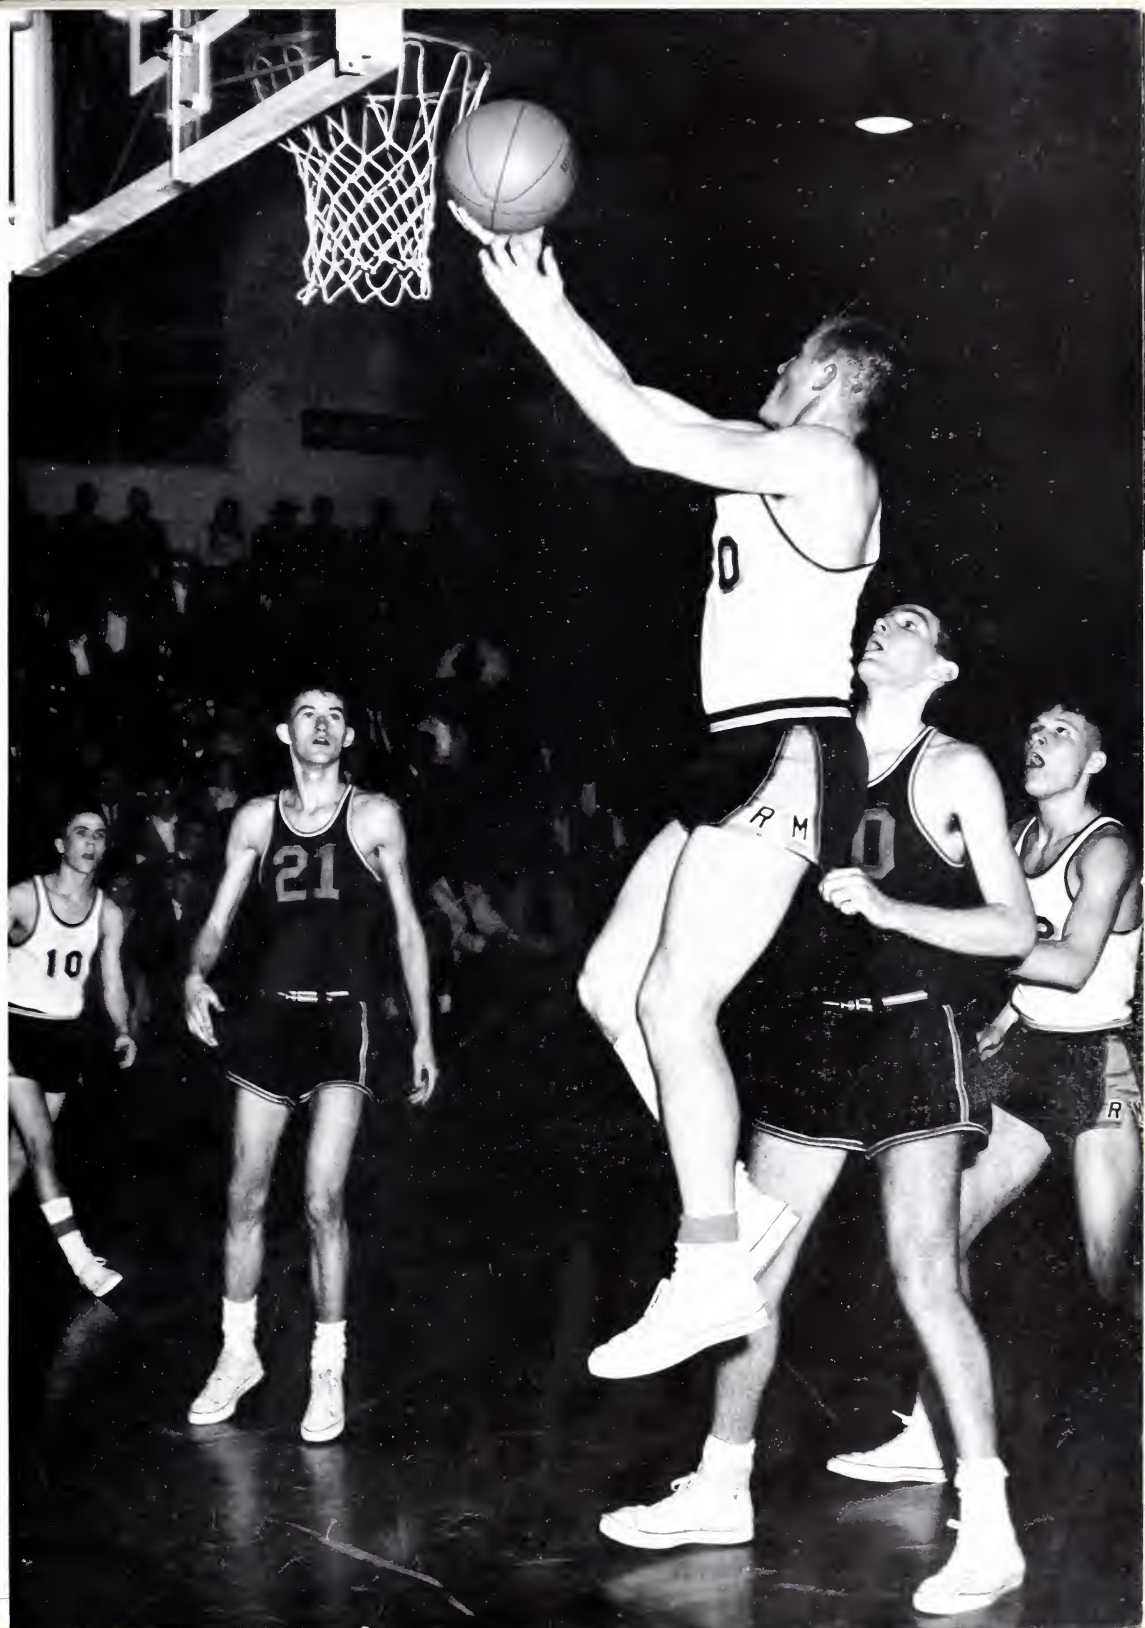

Through the publishing of basketball programs, operating of concession stands at the baseball games, keeping the greenery in the lobby freshly watered, and serving the referees, the SOS Club has shown its willingness to serve. During the Christmas season, the club also takes a less fortunate family and helps them to enjoy Christmas.

All these projects typify the never-ending enthusiasm that this club possesses as it lives up to its motto of "Service Over Self".

A Tribute to the Blackbirds

By BOB WILLIAMS, Sports Editor, Rocky Mount Evening Telegram

Home Of The Double Champs!

That's what they were proclaiming for Rocky Mount Senior High School in the 1962-63 school year when a remarkable Blackbird basketball team followed the RMHS football state championship season with a magnificent state title drive of its own.

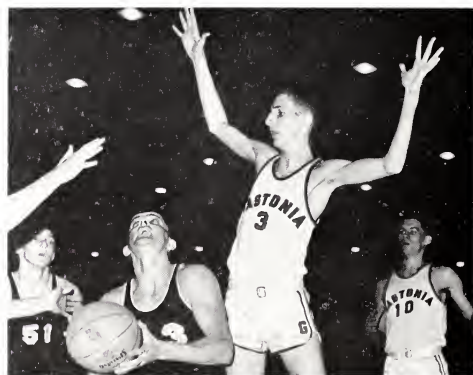

Senior High, which never had enjoyed the glory of state championship honors before this Golden Year, made up for lost time when a great basketball team swept through the state tournament to bring the school its second straight state title.

Heading into the state tournament at Greensboro, this Blackbird basketball squad carried a modest 15-8 record, and tourney experts barely gave them any mention when it came to talking about title contenders. The Birds didn't have enough height, the experts said, and lacked the scoring power needed in tournament play.

This Blackbird team, however, had strengths the experts couldn't see: defense and desire, some sparkling talent and a great amount of team heart. And these were the things that sent them spiralling to the state championship.

The Birds wrapped up the big, shiny trophy with a thrilling overtime victory over Greensboro, and when sophomore center Jimmy Clack dropped in the winning goal just before the final buzzer sounded, Rocky Mount High had its greatest moment in the school's basketball history, and coach Bill Lundy finally had the big prize after 17 years of searching.

It was a magnificent accomplishment, primarily because few people figured the Birds could do it. They had to fight the odds to prove themselves the best in the state.

Billy Warren Crouches for a jumper after faking his man.

SECOND 4-A CHAMPIONSHIP

Rocky Mount was an underdog throughout the tournament. But twice the Blackbirds thundered to big victories, and in the championship game against Greensboro they showed the steel of a champion when they had to fight to win a close one.

The Blackbirds' starting five of Danny Talbott, Tom Parrish, Jimmy Clack, Billy Warren and Robert Ricks saw most of the action in all three games, and to each of them goes a major share of the championship credit. Reserves Jimmy Coats and Harold Earnhardt came in at vital moments to turn in staunch performances, and every man on the bench did his part in boosting the effort with support.

Desire and determination were major factors in the Blackbird drive, but it takes outstanding individual talent to make a championship team and the Birds had their share of that. Talbott turned in three games of brilliant all-around play, and was named the state tournament's Most Valuable Player for the second straight year. Parrish was magnificent in the title game, pouring in 30 points, and joined Talbott on the All-Tournament team. Clack and Warren, rugged rebounders in each game, ran strong in the all-tourney voting, and Ricks was a hustling defensive battler all the way.

In Rocky Mount's opening tournament game the Blackbirds were, at best, rated even with Gastonia, and romped to a 49-30 victory. They were a solid underdog against Burlington in the semi-finals, but again the Blackbirds rolled, this time to a 72-58 triumph.

That brought up the championship clash with Greensboro, and the experts figured Rocky Mount's drive was due to end abruptly. But it was Rocky Mount, not Greensboro, that dominated the action most of the way. The Birds led by 11 points at halftime, lost that margin and then won the championship 52-50 in true storybook fashion, on Clack's last-second shot in overtime.

To most people Rocky Mount's state championship march was a surprise, but the Blackbirds proved themselves the best in the state. Despite facing greater height, they outrebounced their three tournament opponents. They outshot their foes in each game, and showed the strongest defense of the tournament.

Their effort was a great one, and because of it they sat on the throne in The Home Of The Double Champs.

Superintendent Johnson, Mayor Harrison, and Mr. Edson joined thousands of welcomers to congratulate captain Danny Talbott, Coach Bill Lundy, and the rest of the Blackbirds for their victory.

Our second state championship team in '63 celebrates the victory.

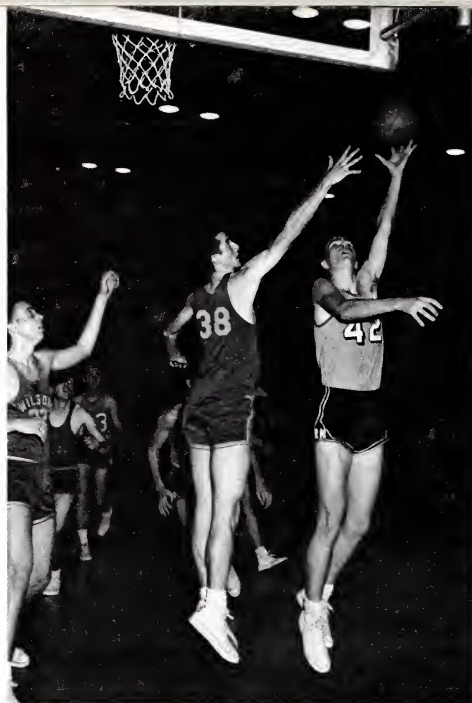

Determination sparks Blackbird defenders against Greensboro.

BASEBALL

1962 was another successful year for Blackbird baseball. The '62 team ended the year with a conference record of seven wins and four losses. After losing the opening game of the season to Wilson, the Blackbird nine came back strong and won the next three conference games.

The Blackbirds suffered their second defeat of the season at the hands of the Wilmington Wildcats. They again came back strong, however, and beat their next four opponents. The Blackbirds went into the last game of the season with a chance to tie for the conference championship, but their hopes were smashed as they lost a heartbreaking game to Goldsboro.

Bill Campbell displays the power that marked the team's strong hitting attack.

In the '62 season, good hitting and an excellent defense made up for the lack of experience in the pitching department.

TENNIS

The Blackbird netters found the '62 season to be a rough one, for they faced a rebuilding task in a year in which other conference teams had reached their strongest points in many years. With only two returning lettermen from the '61 team, the '62 netters finished the season with a dismal 0-6 record.

The tennis team consisted of Ben Benfield, Jon Wiggs, and Jimmy Hubbard; second row, Ted Lancaster, George Ramey, Bob Marshburn, and Eddie Peterson.

The '62 Golf team was composed of Terry Britt, Roy Phipps, Ted Eatman, Mike Hux, John Alexander, and Keen Gravely.

GOLF

The '62 Golf team, led by lettermen Roy Phipps, Ted Eatman, Terry Britt, and Mike Hux, made a strong showing in conference play and finished the season in third place.

Blackbird trackmen Jimmy Clark, Jcp Rose, David Williams, and Dennis Williamson take a breather during practice.

TRACK

The '62 track team was very successful, as the charges of Coaches Chris Carpenter and Henry Trevathan made a strong showing in several meets. Highlights of the season were a victory over Wilson and Goldsboro in a triangular meet, and a victory over Greenville in a dual meet at the Greenville track. The track team also made a strong showing in the conference meet.

BLACK MASQUERS — GOAL OF EVERY DRAMA STUDENT

Officers of the Black Masquers standing before the door of the Green Room are Kenneth Rackley, vice-president; Anne Nelson, secretary; Pat Forbes, president; and Dell Lamm, treasurer.

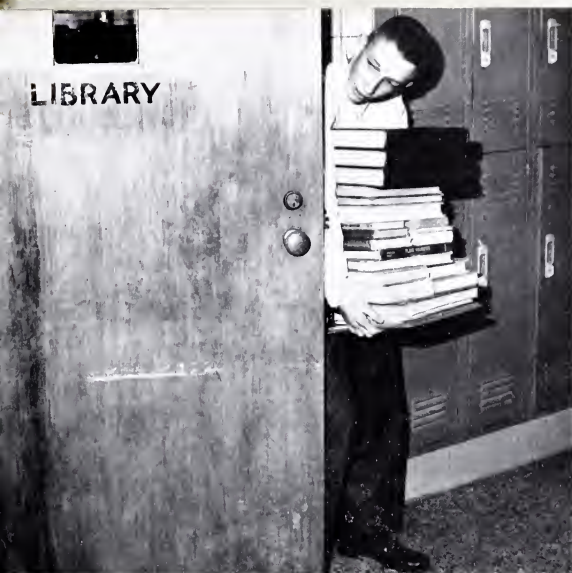

Proceeds from their projects during the year go into equipment for the school stage. Members often participate at community functions, serving as ushers or stage crew. In addition to their other activities, the Black Masquers produce a play on their own.

Black Masquers relax back stage during a line rehearsal for a one act play. Members cooperate closely with the Edsonians in their productions, too, and often serve behind the curtain.

The coast is clear as Raymond Levy escapes from the library with reference material to study for exams.

Robert Smith and nephew, David, display a touching scene of true patriotism as they salute the American flag.

SPRING . . . JUNIOR-SENIOR . . . COMMENCEMENT

"Mary Jelless, it's my turn!" exclaims Becky Edwards, as they struggle to get under the sunlamp.

"It won't be long now!" Jackie Oakley and Pam Luper are getting their last-minute touches at a local beauty shop for the Junior-Senior.

Randy Griffin, Bernie Capps, and Kaye Hatchett are giving Henrietta Gordon and Connie Lane a booming business at the Student Store.

"What will they do to me next?" groans tired Buddy Elmore.

We of the 1963 Hi-Noc-Ar staff wish to thank our community, our fellow students, our faculty and administrators, and especially our able advisors, Miss Alma Murchison, Mrs. Nellie Rhea Winstead, and Mr. Price Coursey of Charlotte Engraving Company for their whole-hearted cooperation during the past year. Without the understanding and assistance of these people, a publication such as this would have been virtually impossible. We feel that Jack Cummings, our student photographer, has here displayed some excellent examples of his work, so we are deeply indebted to him for his time and talents.

The 1963 Hi-Noc-Ar, a monument to tears, frustration, threats, and coaxing is here for the casual reader to decide for himself the question which has bothered the staff all year—"Was it all worth it?" We unanimously agree to the positive answer to this question, and hope that all the readers, the students of Senior High, feel the same.
